NEWSROOM NOTES — Do Americans really have more leisure time now than they did 30 years ago? Have modern appliances such as dishwashers and clothes dryers really freed women of housework? Emphatically no, according to a study of U.S. leisure time reported in a current magazine issue.

Leisure time today is about five hours a day per person, about the same portion of the day as in the 1930s, says the magazine.

Of the five hours, TV spectating occupies 1½ hours, with the rest devoted increasingly to hobbies, washing and grooming, and to social participation outside of the home.

Proportionately less leisure minutes are given to radio listening, reading, eating at home, visiting relatives, playing cards, pleasure driving and active participation in sports.

American men are spending on an average one hour more on the job, sometimes moonlighting, and both men and women are now getting close to an hour's less sleep a night.

The promise of labor-saving appliances for housewives, yielding more leisure, is discounted by a university sociologist whose lengthy study shows, "The expectation that time on housework would decrease with the advent of more household appliances is not supported by data."

Three More Are Arrested

At least three more Beloit, Wis., college students have been arrested and charged with possession of marijuana in still another raid Saturday night on the same street where Thursday and Friday there were four other persons arrested after similar raids.

According to Beloit, Wis., police, Saturday's arrests brought to seven the total number of persons charged, in three days, in that city with possession or sale of marijuana.

Police raided an apartment at 407½ Central Ave., Beloit, where several stalks of unbaked marijuana was seized along with equipment for processing it and a hookah, an Indian pipe sometimes used for smoking marijuana and hashish.

Charged in Saturday's raid were Kathleen Hope Neary, 20, Earl C. Kinsky, 21, and Christopher Waldo, 21, all students at Beloit College.

In Thursday's and Friday's raids, a short distance from the apartment raided Saturday night, three former college students were arrested and 38 pounds of marijuana seized. A fourth man was arrested in a Beloit factory and charged with selling the narcotic at work.

In Dixon two youths arrested a short time ago and charged with possession of marijuana are scheduled for court appearances this afternoon.

Dirksen Opposes Registration by Poverty Workers

CHICAGO (AP) — An anti-poverty agency's plan to register voters in Gary, Ind., has been termed a dangerous precedent by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill.

Dirksen said Sunday the drive in Gary, where a Negro Democrat is running for mayor, could hurt the Office of Economic Opportunity's pocketbook.

The Senate minority leader referred to voter registration drive plans of the Lake County Economic Opportunity Council. The plans call for passing out literature to poor persons and aiding them in "finding locations for registering for the November elections."

Dirksen said the legality of the plan will be scrutinized. More than half of Gary's 178,000 residents are Negroes and

Man Killed In Accident

A 33-year-old West Brooklyn man lost his life late Sunday when the station wagon he was driving south on a gravel road collided with a semi-trailer truck as it started to cross U.S. 30 at the West Brooklyn spur.

Dead is Donald R. Nelson, who, along with the driver of the truck, was taken to KSB Hospital, Dixon, in an Allen-Buckley ambulance.

State Police and deputy sheriffs investigated the accident and the West Brooklyn Fire Department was called to wash gasoline from the highway. The impact of the crash tore the gas tank loose from the station wagon and its contents spewed over the roadway.

The truck driver, Robert Overturn, 29, Malcolm, Iowa, is listed in good condition today by hospital spokesmen.

The truck was eastbound on U.S. 30 about 10 p.m. when Nelson's vehicle started across the highway directly in the path of the large rig which struck the station wagon, knocking it into a ditch.

The collision caused the truck to go out of control so that it finally spun around and tipped over, headed in the opposite direction from which it had been proceeding.

Both drivers were alone at the time of the accident. Damage to the truck was set at $10,000 and the station wagon was totally demolished.

Donald R. Nelson, 33, West Brooklyn, was born Feb. 7, 1934, at Colorado Springs, Colo., the son of Roy and Beulah Nelson. He married Marjorie Jordan Sept. 2, 1955, at Colorado Springs. He was a veteran of the Korean conflict and employed by California Packing Corporation, Rochelle.

He was preceded in death by his father.

Survivors include his widow; four daughters, Deborah, Peggy, Brenda and Donna, all at home; his mother, Mrs. Roy Nelson, Colorado Springs, a brother Jerry, Colorado Springs, and a sister, Nola May Rowler, Colorado Springs.

Funeral services and burial will be in Colorado Springs.

Friends may call in the Schwarz Funeral Home, Mendota, after 7 p.m. Tuesday.

most are expected to vote for Negro Richard G. Hatcher for mayor.

He has initiated a personal fund-raising effort, mainly to finance a voter registration drive to sign up thousands of eligible Negroes who are not now on the poll books.

Some observers say a voter registration drive among Gary's poor would have the effect of stimulating the Democratic vote, since many of Gary's Negroes are in that economic category.

Dirksen said voter registration by federal antipoverty workers could be a dangerous political weapon.

"Though they may say it will be nonpartisan," he said, "the politics of the person doing the field work is bound to creep in."

Fighting Erupts Between Indians and Red Chinese

Surveyor Is Functioning

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—The sophisticated Surveyor 5 space robot, successful in skidding to a soft landing on the moon despite technical problems, today calmly went about taking pictures and testing soil on the lunar surface.

Scientists at the Jet propulsion Laboratory were jubilant about the excellent quality of the first pictures televised to earth from the 600-pound instrument-laden spacecraft after it landed Sunday.

Surveyor Project Manager Howard Haglund said there was a possibility that lunar dirt had been stirred up in the landing and that this was "scientifically very important." The pictures showed what appeared to be lunar dirt kicked up on one landing pad.

Early today on command from earth a unique gold-plated chemical device was lowered on a nylon cord halfway from the spacecraft to the moon surface and calibrations made of background radiation.

Scientists then ordered the six-inch square celestial "jewel case" lowered onto the lunar surface and begin analyzing the lunar soil by bombarding it with radioactive particles that can be calibrated by sensors aboard Surveyor 5 and the information relayed to earth.

"It will take 8 or 10 hours of operation on the surface to have enough information to make an analysis of the composition," a JPL spokesman said. He said it would be "several days before the analysis is completed."

Teachers Still Cutting Classes

NEW YORK (UPI)—Teachers in the nation's largest school system stayed away from opening classes today in a militant drive for more money and a greater voice in school policy. Their union called the action "90 per cent effective" but the Board of Education declared the schools opened officially nevertheless.

Administrators with help from volunteer mothers kept the doors of 900 city school open for 1.1 million children. The board ordered a count of just how many pupils attended classes.

The teachers defied a court order restraining their union, the United Federation of Teachers (UFT) from "any strike, concerted stoppage of work or concerted resignations." A show cause order was served on UFT President Albert Shanker and an aide by a member of the city Corporation Counsel's office less than an hour before classes were to start.

But Shanker, a mathematics teacher, took his place for a time in a picket line outside one mid-Manhattan school and then returned to his office to plot strategy. He proclaimed the stoppage "90 per cent effective" in crippling the school system.

The union claimed that 97 per cent of the teachers stayed away from Manhattan schools and 90 per cent in the Bronx. On incomplete, teachers absences were running at 90 per cent in Brooklyn, 85 per cent in Queens and 91 per cent in the Bronx. On Staten Island, it said, 1,800 of the 2,200 teachers joined in the stoppage.

Shanker said he was armed with the resignations of 38,342 of the city's 55,000 teachers and professional employees and expected thousands more to be turned in a rally and "informational march" around City Hall this afternoon.

The resignations were not immediately submitted to school officials, he said, because of the fear that the officials would use them for "blackmail" by threatening to notify the draft boards of teachers with deferments.

Leaflets Are Thrown at U.S. Senators

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Demonstrators disrupted a session of the Senate today by showering leaflets down from the public galleries. The protest action on the first day of Congress' return from a Labor Day recess forced a halt to the floor proceedings.

The leaflets demanded withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam, and end to the military draft and declared: "End . . . the suppression of black Americans."

The mimeographed sheets also warned: "Until you meet these emergencies, there will be

Sikkim Is Battle Site

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Indian and Chinese Communist troops battled today with artillery, mortars and automatic weapons at 14,000-foot high Nathula Pass leading from the Indian protectorate of Sikkim into the Chumbi Valley of Tibet. There were casualties on both sides.

Sikkim Maharajah Gyalsay Palden Thondup Namgyal, ruler of the Himalayan kingdom that is about twice the size of Rhode Island, flew to his capital of Gangtok today, leaving his queen, former New York debutante Hope Cooke, in New Delhi.

An Indian government spokesman said the firing was continuing intermittently in the heavily traveled pass barely 15 miles northeast of Gangtok. He said the Chinese fired first, first the rifles and automatic weapons, and then with mortars and artillery.

Some Indians were reported wounded. A Chinese Communist broadcast which said the Indian troops opened fire reported Indian artillery killed or wounded 25 Chinese soldiers and that a number of civilian houses in the

Negotiators Agree On New Contract

CHICAGO (AP) — Negotiators for Swift & Co. and the United Packinghouse, Food and Allied Workers hammered out a tentative new contract agreement Sunday following summer-long talks that may have averted a 13-state meat strike.

The contract, which includes a 34-cent pay raise over a three-year period, is still subject to approval by the union's 7,500 members.

Union spokesman said the proposed package also includes additional raises for union members in southern plants, additional pension funds and an extra holiday for all employees.

The spokesman added that the new contract could mean as much as a 60-cent wage increase for some workers. Swift spokesman added that other semi-skilled and skilled workers could expect at least a 12-cent pay raise.

The raises will be retroactive from March 31. At that time the company reached a similar pay-

Error Costs County $$$

Because State's Atty. Henry S. Dixon incorrectly prepared a resolution for the new service occupation tax, the State Department of Revenue has returned the resolution to the county which will now lose at least a month's revenue, The Telegraph has been told.

An earlier resolution to raise to five per cent sales tax in unincorporated areas of the county, however, was approved by the department. The sales tax was increased with the adoption of a resolution increasing it from 4½ per cent and having the state approve this action.

A separate resolution drawn to make the five per cent service occupation tax apply to unincorporated areas of the county was not properly drawn and has been returned by the state, unapproved.

According to a spokesman for the revenue department, the resolution if properly prepared would have entitled the county to begin collecting the five per cent service tax effective Sept. 1, but it will now have to wait another month or longer, depending upon when the state's attorney corrects the improperly drafted resolution.

Supervisors last month approved the service tax after voting on the resolution drawn up by State's Atty. Dixon, but apparently will have to vote on the issue again at Tuesday's meeting, or at a subsequent meeting, if the resolution is not corrected by Tuesday.

In any event, the county cannot collect the five per cent service tax until a correct resolution is forwarded to the revenue department and approved there.

Miss Kansas Wins Pageant

NEW YORK (UPI) — Debra Dene Barnes, the new Miss America, today began a busy round of pageant appearances, uncertain when she would be able to return to the hospital bedside of her mother who is critically ill with multiple sclerosis.

Debra was to be in New York "about two weeks" during which time she will pose for photographs for the pageant's commercial sponsors, a pageant spokesman said.

But Debra let the world know her thoughts were with her mother Sunday when she was asked at her first post-pageant news conference what she would do if she had $1 million.

"I would buy a grand piano and donate the rest to research ice occupation tax during September and not until a correct resolution is forwarded to the revenue department and approved there.

Mrs. Morton Is Returned To Dixon

Mrs. Roy Morton, who was severely injured in New York City two weeks ago, has been returned to Dixon and is now a patient at Dixon's KSB Hospital.

Mrs. Morton and her husband, the former advertising director of The Dixon Evening Telegraph, were en route to England when the mishap occurred in front of a New York hotel. They were to sail on the Queen Elizabeth the following day.

Mrs. Morton had been a patient in the Lenox Hill Hospital in New York City, from where she was taken by ambulance to LaGuardia Airport and flown to Chicago by TWA airlines. The Allen-Buckley ambulance from Dixon met the flight at O'Hare Field and brought her to Dixon Saturday.

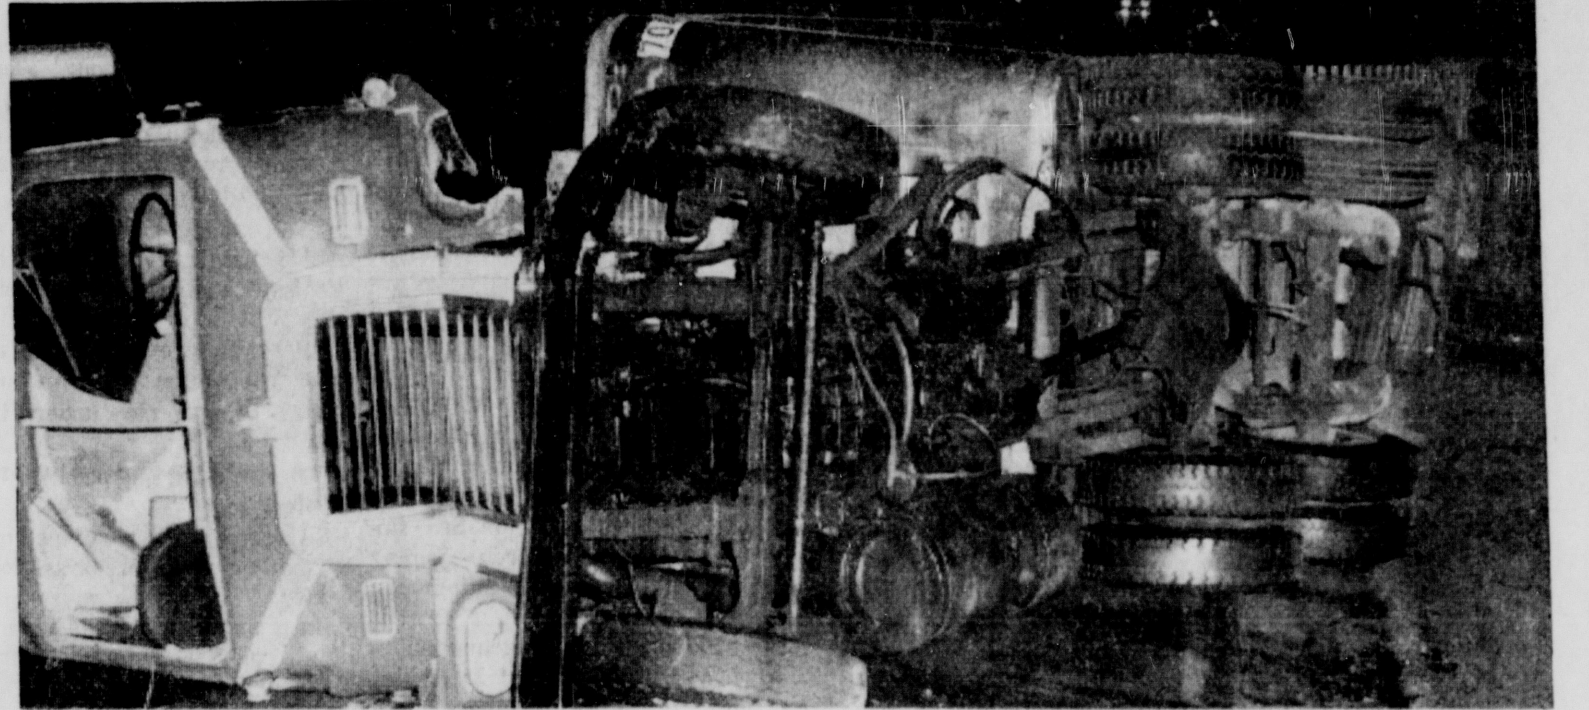

Reportedly Mrs. Morton has a broken shoulder, broken hip and a double fracture of her right arm. She will remain hospitalized for some time. According to her husband, they are still planning on going to England at a future date. Morton is staying at the Nachusa Hotel.

for multiple sclerosis," said the 20-year-old blue-eyed beauty, whose mother was stricken with the disease 11 years ago and has been bedridden at Mercy Hospital in Fort Scott, Kan., for about three years.

At her news conference, the new Miss America said she was looking forward to making many new friends during her year's reign—and a possible trip to Vietnam.

"It sounds corny and trite," she said, "but the main thing I look forward to during the next year is meeting new people. I love people."

Asked if she would like to visit Vietnam as did her predecessor, Jan Anne Jayroe, the Kansas State College of Pittsburg junior replied: "Oh, yes."

Compton WSCS Has Meeting

COMPTON—"The Missionary Finds a New Identity" was the program presented by Mrs. Gene Bradley, Wednesday evening, for the meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in the Methodist Church.

Utilizing letters from a college girl, her mother, a secretary of missionary personnel and a veteran missionary, Mrs. Bradley showed the development of a contemporary missionary from her first "call" to her assignment overseas.

Assisting Mrs. Bradley in the presentation were Miss Marianne Bradley, Mrs. Wayne Archer, Mrs. August Johnson and Mrs. Mildred Eddy.

Mrs. Gordon Menzel led devotions centered on Bible translators.

An invitation was read to a coffee hour at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in Steward Methodist Church with a program of slides of a European trip. The DeKalb District fall meetings were announced for 9:45 a.m. Sept. 27, at Morrison, and Sept. 28, at DeKalb. The annual meeting of the North Central Jurisdiction was announced for Oct. 11-13 at Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

The Goodwill truck will call at the church Thursday.

Anyone interested in an adult study class is to contact the Rev. Ray Scott, pastor. Mrs. Leo Eggers, finance chairman, reported a profit of over $300 at the homecoming supper and reminded members to be working on items for a bazaar in November.

Mrs. Ed Weiler reported on the spring meeting of the WSCS at Aurora. The local church dedication service was announced for Nov. 26.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Menzel, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Bradley.

Color TV Is Peak Of Gadget Idolatry

NEW YORK (AP)—America's idolatry of the gadget has reached a peak in the present worship of the color television set.

Whether you own one or not determines your social class—whether you belong to

News Briefs

GROSSE POINT WOODS, Mich. (AP)—Judith Elizabeth Fisher and Jack Forker Chrysler Jr. were married Friday at Our Lady Star of the Sea Roman Catholic Church, joining two families in the automobile industry.

The bride is the granddaughter of the late Alfred J. Fisher, one of seven brothers who founded the auto body manufacturing firm. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Fisher Jr.

The groom's grandfather was the late Walter P. Chrysler, founder of Chrysler Corp.

After a Tahiti honeymoon, the couple plan to live in Playa Del Ray, Calif., where the bridegroom is working for a degree in aerospace engineering at Northrop Institute of Technology.

the haves or the have nots, the "in" group or the "out" group. "How long are we going to go on living the Dark Ages?" demanded my daughter, Tracy Ann, who is 14.

"Yes, the Dark Ages," she said dramatically. "That's what life is without a color television set."

"Practically everybody has a color set except us. How long are we going to stay underprivileged?"

"Oh, we'll get one soon."

"How soon?"

"As soon as you can get one by mailing away breakfast food

boxtops."

But I suppose we will have to buy a color set before too long. My wife Frances has joined my daughter's assault, and it is difficult for a man to hold out against two ruthless females, no matter how great his integrity.

Besides, I don't think it's fair of me to subject them to possible social ostracism. My neighbors for some time have looked upon me with suspicion because I've never owned an automobile. If I don't give in and buy a color television set, they may start picketing me as a guy who's un-American and a threat to local property values.

There are several reasons why I haven't joined the race to bring "glorious living color" into my living room.

Such as:

A. I am, let's face it, something of a cheapskate. It shocks my sense of values to pay for an entertainment toy more than I spent for a full year of college in my youth.

B. If I want to see glorious living color, I can watch a sunrise or sunset, or stick my head out the window after a summer shower and look at a rainbow.

C. It is my firm belief that seeing Ed Sullivan's teeth in beige, or Barbra Streisand's nose in pastel mauve, won't really make me admire their artistry any more.

D. I'm afraid that if I get a color television set I'll become as snobbish as some of my friends who now own one.

My friends don't talk of their color sets as machines. They speak of them as if they were pampered pets—almost as if they were alive, but in somewhat delicate health.

"Is yours all right?"

"Yes, it's coming along just fine. How is yours?"

Recently the color set of one of my friends had a breakdown. I thought my friend was going to have one, too. I didn't know whether to mail a get-well card to my friend or to the repair hospital where his set had been taken for a thorough examination. Both were sick, sick, sick.

I thought of phoning the repair hospital to see how his set was coming along, but desisted. I had the eerie feeling that if I did so, a voice on the phone would reply: "I'm sorry, but that color set is in surgery at present. A bulletin on its condition will be issued later."

Editor's note: What Hal Boyle doesn't know is that his wife has already selected his Christmas present. It couldn't be a necktie. It's packed in a great big cardboard box marked "Fragile—This End Up."

Personality Plays Stardom Role: Day

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"Unless you're a character actor, you're always yourself. It can't be any other way," Doris Day beamed.

"Maybe a lot of actors would argue the point with me. But almost every motion picture star has his own personality coming through the character he plays."

The stronger the personality, the greater the chances for stardom.

Doris singled out Richard Burton and Marlon Brando as examples. "Brando plays many different roles, but it's always Brando and a strong Brando," she said. "That's what people latch onto."

Playing Themselves

Sitting in her air-conditioned trailer dressing room on the sweltering MGM lot, she appeared as fresh and piquant as any ingenue. Four poodles snuggled at her side on a divan.

"Before I came to Hollywood I was a fan of Gary Cooper, Spencer Tracy, Jimmy Stewart, Ginger Rogers and Jean Arthur because I knew what to expect them to do, and wanted them to do it."

"I felt as if I knew them before we met," Doris explained. "And when we did meet they were exactly the kind of people I thought they'd be. The same was true of Bogart. And that's what makes movie stars."

What about Doris? Is she much the same kind of person she appears to be on the screen?

Not That Naive
"I'm not so sure about myself. But I imagine people think they're acquainted with me on the screen and I'm not too different. But because I'm doing a lot of comedy I suppose there's a difference.

"I have to play a naive character when I'm really not that naive in person."

A major star for more years than she can count, Doris currently heads the cast of "Where Were You When the Lights Went Out?" A comedy based on the New York blackout.

"I learn my lines and know my character, and the rest is me. The inner person is manifest on the screen. And I think that's the way it is with all actors," Doris continued.

"But it is especially true of stars. Essentially they are themselves. Audiences expect them to be and are disappointed when they're not."

Mount Morris News

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kinsley, Washington, D.C., were here visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Kinsley. They left Monday to go to California where Mr. Kinsley will be director of a Peace Corps unit in California.

Spaniards Read Minds of Arabs

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

The Spanish Foreign Office forecast exactly to me in Madrid the outcome of the Arab states' summit meeting that has now decided to resume oil sales to the West, which also affects their rearmament. No one in Europe or the West, and certainly not the French, knows the Arabs as well as do these neighbors, the Spaniards. It would pay Washington to listen to them carefully in our Middle East problem.

The interrelation is mirrored in the Spanish mores. In Spain death is at home. Perhaps as the heritage of Arab fatalism after 700 years of Arab occupation, the Spaniards seem to fear death less than any Western people. In the flamenco music you hear the beat of an Arab fantasia. And throughout the south of Spain, and even in the Street of the Knifesharpeners in Madrid's student quarter, the Arab architectural heritage of Spain bursts forth.

Unrealized here, Spanish foreign policy is now nearly obsessed with the idea of serving as a third force in the Middle East disputes. Foreign Minister Fernando Maria Castiella sees Algerian President Houari Boumedienne, who boycotted the Khartoum summit meeting, as the most dangerous leader in the Arab world and even sees Egypt's fanatical Gamal Abdel Nasser as "mellowed" by comparison.

Such Spanish authorities insist that we persistently misconstrue Arab-Jew relations. Instead of our impression of ancient mutual hatred, there is probably nowhere on earth that Jews have traditionally lived more peacefully and successfully.

Madrid officials remind you that in Palestine, for centuries, any child—Jew or Arab—born in the same week as another became automatically a foster-brother or sister of that other child. And former British Foreign Office official Anthony Nutting has observed that it was the Arab peoples and the Moslem "church" that gave shelter and asylum to Jews fleeing Christian Europe's pogroms from the Spanish Inquisition and the persecutions of tsarist Russia down to the ghastly extermination which Hitler called "the final solution."

In fact, for long years the Palestine Arabs and Jews were held together as allies by their mutual hatred for their British masters. As a booty of World War I Britain seized Palestine under the Balfour Declaration, obtained a League of Nations mandate, and set up shop to enhance Britain's commercial and strategic interests. This violated every pledge England gave the Arabs to gain their wartime help against the Turks. The influx of European Jews and the eviction of the Arabs began then.

Spanish officials point out that the 92 per cent Arab, eight per cent Jewish population was changed to 65 per cent Arab, 35 per cent Jewish by the time Britain surrendered the mandate to the United Nations after World War II.

Britain constructed the postwar Arab League in 1945, partly to protect her own interests in the Sudan, but this aim failed and the Anglo-American support of Israel carried the Arab animosity against Westerners into an animosity and fear of Israel as well.

The Spaniards explain that in Arab eyes this new state is a Western outpost created and supported to serve Western purposes, even though the Arabs are unfair in many of their accusations against Israel.

Then, within five months after Britain's soldiers left Egypt in 1956, Britain and France confirmed every Arab suspicion by using Israel as a stalking horse to destroy Nasser in their former Cairo sphere of influence.

Madrid diplomats see Israel with a new composition today apparently we overlook. The Oriental, or so-called Arab, Jews now outnumber the European Jews there. The change is due to a new influx of Jews from North Africa combined with a significant "drift-back" of European Jews to Europe. This trend, they told me, was about the only feature the Arabs found salutary at the Khartoum summit conclave.

The Spanish authorities believe that even were Israel to take back the million evicted Arab refugees, dating from 1948, share the Jordan River waters and take all other conciliatory steps, these efforts would not be decisive.

They are convinced that so long as Israel remains a Western state and has Zionist aims there can be no hope of peace there with the Arab world and they are deeply alarmed by the renewed Russian support which Washington seems to downgrade.

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: For many years I tried to persuade my wife to come to Europe with me. She felt she could not keep up with the pace of a guided tour and since that was the only way I could go, I decided to make the trip alone.

I was gone 21 days and had a wonderful time. There were several couples on the tour who were my age (past 60) and many interesting widows. One widow in particular was extremely pleasant and we often sat together on the planes and buses and enjoyed one another's company.

A few days before we were to leave for home she telephoned my room (this was in Paris) and said she was having trouble closing her suitcase. She asked if I would help. I said "yes" and went to her room. After I closed the door, we visited a few minutes. She remarked that it had been an exhausting day and she was sleepy and wanted to take a nap. I said I was sleepy too. She suggested I flop down on the other twin bed for awhile and I did.

We both dozed for about 40 minutes and then I left.

When I told my wife about this harmless little incident, she flew into a rage. She insisted that I had committed adultery, that no decent woman would allow a man to sleep in her room and that no respectable man would have done such a thing. I did not do anything wrong and my conscience is clear. My wife has been very formal ever since and I am talked out. Please give me your opinion on whether or not I am guilty of adultery.—CONDEMNED.

Dear Condemned: If all you did was take a nap in the widow's room you are not guilty of adultery. But you used very poor judgment, Dad.

The next time you are hit with a sudden attack of drowsiness, don't lie down in a widow's hotel room. Dash some cold water on your face and drag yourself to your own quarters where you belong.

Dear Ann Landers: Others have aired their pet peeves in your column. May I? When the phone rings I always drop everything and answer it as soon as possible. Sometimes I am unable to get to the phone until the fourth or fifth ring. If the caller has hung up I get terribly upset wondering if I missed something important.

It is exasperating when one runs from the attic or the basement or the garden and then picks up the receiver and hears a dial tone.

Please tell your readers about the information which is printed in the front pages of the telephone directory. It says the phone will ring 10 times in the space of one minute. I believe as a matter of ordinary courtesy a caller ought to give a person 60 seconds to get to the phone. Will you kindly pass the word—NOBODY THERE.

Dear N. T.: Here's your letter, and with it my pledge that in the future I will give the other party 10 rings before I hang up. I confess I didn't realize 10 rings was equivalent to 60 seconds.

I read that the Nizam of Hyderabad has asked his government for more money because he can't make ends meet. His annual stipend is now only $267,000 and the poor Nizam has had to cut 3,500 servants from his staff of 14,000.

Now, I'm as sorry as can be about his budget problem, but what I would really like to know is where he got 14,000 servants. You see, I embarked long ago on a fruitless search for household help. I was just looking for somebody to come in and help me rearrange the clutter.

What I had in mind was a woman who could be referred to as "a real jewel." Well, all the jewels I interviewed retreated to their velvet boxes. Now actually that is a misleading sentence. I don't want to give the impression I interviewed them because the truth is they interviewed ME. But only after I had passed the tests at the agency.

After I promised to replace my equipment over two years of age and signed a form stating I would install central vacuum cleaning and send the children to boarding school, the agency consented to send somebody out to look us over.

The first lady snorted at the few Japanese ornaments we have in the living room, then stabbed her finger toward the dining room rug. "That's Oriental, too," she accused. I allowed as how it was and then made the mistake of telling her it was Chinese. "Well, I don't work for no Commies!" she said and stalked out to her Cadillac.

The next two candidates didn't even get out of their limousines and the two after that would have given us a chance but I couldn't meet their conditions. One wanted us to cut down all the shrubbery and pour cement over the lawn because they might harbor insects and the other not only said we had to get rid of the children and the dog but told us we had to quit smoking as well.

The last woman who came considered us for a moment and then said if we would eat off paper plates she thought she could drop in three times a week and throw them into the garbage can. However, she couldn't see her way clear to take on any dusting or ironing.

Well, I was willing to meet anyone half way but we have such a big family that if I bought all those plates I couldn't afford her. However, until the Feds catch up with me I think we will manage, because, you see, I have drawn up my own set of child labor laws.

'New Politics' Affected By Racism, Communism

For some of the liberals present—or watching the TV pickups—the National Conference for New Politics was a traumatic experience. This was the first sustained exposure of the "New Left" and the face it presented to the nation was ugly, pockmarked by hate, and ruthless. These aspects have been more or less covered by the newspapers and have had their drubbing from the pundits. But few have bothered to put the organizational structure of the NCNP under a microscope or to examine the motivation of those who masterminded the spectacle.

By now, those who bothered to watch know that the New Left has been infected by that virulent disease, Communist anti-Semitism. That the party of Marx, Lenin, and Stalin should be a carrier comes as no surprise to those who remember the hook-nosed, whip-bearing Jews which inhabited the cartoons of (pro-Communist) American and Soviet artists during the period of the Hitler-Stalin Pact. This was the first time, however, that it was broadcast by the mass media, and it shook those who have been led to believe that anti-Semitism was the exclusive sickness of Adolf Hitler, Gerald L. K. Smith, and their sorry followers.

There was some chortling at the way in which some Jewish delegates to the conference in Chicago accepted the clearly racist nature of the anti-Israel resolutions rammed through by the Communists and their Black Power allies. There was some incredulity over the manner in which Black Power delegates, 200 in all, were able to force the conference to give them equal voting strength with the 2,100 white delegates—an exercise in "democracy" which blatantly demonstrated the concern of the New Left over equality and civil rights.

What few asked was how the New Left conference was rigged. After all, there were innocents in plenty who believed that they were attending the birth of an idealistic political movement. Certainly, their votes should have at the very least registered a protest against the totalitarianism of Black Power.

The fact, simply, is that the innocents had no more say in what went on than they did in the 1930s and 1940s, when the Communist apparatus was using them to flesh out one subversive organization after another. They were invited to give the appearance of broadly based mass action. Once in Chicago, they had the choice of walking out or knuckling under. And given their dedication to the proposition that opposition to Communism is surrender to Fascism, most of them submitted to the rape of their ideals.

Under the circumstances, they had no other course short of declaring the non-conformity which they always protest is theirs but which they submerge to expediency. For the National Conference for New Politics was no more a meeting of free minds than the 1948 Progressive Party in Philadelphia that "nominated" Henry Wallace for the Presidency.

Under the rules drawn up by the Communist puppeteers, any organization—no matter what its size—could have a minimum of five delegates to the conference. What the Communists did was to proliferate "organizations" in every state of the union. In Kentucky alone, 38 such paper groups were set up by the Communists, giving them 190 delegates from that state alone. The Communists, therefore, were the controlling group at the NCNP. Allied to the Black Power caucus, they could manipulate the meeting.

The Communists and the Black Power caucus, moreover, were the only adequately financed force. With money and discipline, they could easily rout the pathetically feeble efforts of the non-aligned New Leftists who believed that they had been called together to debate and persuade.

One of the victims of the National Conference for New Politics was Walter Reuther. Let it be said right off that Mr. Reuther is not a Communist. But he is one of those activists who believes that he is smart enough to manipulate the Communist machine. He had seen the NCNP as one more group to use in the formation of his "union of the poor," with which he hopes to dominate national politics.

The spectacle of the Communist-Black Power alliance was a little too raw. The takeover by the Communists of the Wallace Progressive Party was not a subtle one, but the participants —from Mr. Wallace down—had not had their noses rubbed in it. Those who thought they were organizing the NCNP cannot claim, now that the meeting is over, that they did not know the gun was loaded. The New Politics movement will remain with us, but it is exposed for what it is. When the pendulum swings back and sanity returns to America, those who persist in remaining allied to the NCNP will have some monumental explaining to do. After all, racism, Communism, and black-mail can hardly be fobbed off as "Twentieth Century Americanism."

History, Not Svetlana, Will Judge Stalin

By LEON DENNEN

NEW YORK (NEA)—We shall hear a good deal from and about Stalin's daughter, Svetlana Alliluyeva, when her memoirs are printed in October.

Meanwhile, her "Twenty Letters to a Friend" just issued in Russian by a London publisher gives us a preview of what her much-publicized book will contain.

According to Svetlana, her father, the dictator who ruled the Russian people with unparalleled harshness for nearly three decades, died a horrible but natural death. This apparently should dispel rumors that he was murdered or poisoned, current in Russia and the West since his death in 1953.

More interesting is Svetlana's assertion that Stalin's death was lamented by his puppets in the Kremlin whom he tormented and terrorized for close to 30 years. Nikita Khrushchev, former Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Marshal Klementi Voroshilov cried openly and unashamedly, she reports.

Yet only three years later the same men, at a congress of the Russian Communist party, denounced Stalin as a blood-thirsty dictator guilty of monstrous crimes.

"If Stalin ordered you to dance the hopak—you danced," Khrushchev subsequently said. This was his justification for having taken active part in the dictator's massacres of innocent men and women.

It is, of course, normal for children to love their parents. Svetlana is no exception. But let us not be misled by her charm and pseudo-lyrical style. Under her father's rule Russian children were encouraged to spy on their parents. They were rewarded for denouncing their fathers and brothers.

Leon Trotsky's entire family was exterminated by Stalin. Trotsky himself was killed in Mexico by one of the dictator's agents.

Svetlana's father looked on with satisfaction as Lenin's closest friends, the "old Bolsheviks," were tortured by the Russian secret police and executed by Stalin's firing squads.

Today, as the latest Kremlin oligarchs prepare to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Lenin's revolution, there is hardly a prominent old Bolshevik alive in Russia.

Those who did not die a natural death were killed by Stalin. The sole exception is old Vyacheslav Molotov, a former Soviet prime minister. But he is an "unperson" in the Soviet limbo who is not even permitted to take part in the anniversary festivities.

Taking her cue from Khrushchev and Russia's present rulers, Svetlana tries to shift the blame to Lavrenti Beria for Stalin's crimes. He was her father's evil genius, she claims.

But the truth is that Beria, the former chief of the secret police who was shot by Stalin's successors in 1953, was still a functionary in Georgia when Stalin perpetrated his greatest crimes in the 1930s. It was not Beria but the demented and sadistic Yezhov who was Stalin's tool then.

In fact, there is considerable evidence today that Beria was the most liberal official in Stalin's entourage—if there is such a species as a liberal Communist.

Stalin, Svetlana writes, was in terrible agony until he gave up his last breath. The man who had trusted no one all his life opened his eyes just before his death and suddenly raised his left hand, which was not paralyzed, pointing upwards to the sky.

Was this the dictator's last threatening gesture? Or did Stalin, who once studied for the priesthood, beg forgiveness for the crimes he committed on earth?

This writer was in Moscow when Stalin's idealistic and gentle second wife and Svetlana's mother died. Rumor had it that the dictator shot her in a moment of frenzy. Svetlana insists that her mother committed suicide.

The first name of Svetlana's mother was Nadezhda, which in Russian means hope. This was also the first name of Lenin's widow who was still alive in 1932.

Less than 24 hours after the Russian people learned of Nadezhda Stalin's death, distressed Muscovites were saying: "When Lenin died at least hope (nadezhda) remained; Stalin came and even hope died."

By all means, then, let us respect and even admire Svetlana's loyalty as a daughter and her valiant effort to soften history's judgment of her father. But let us also remember the millions of Stalin's innocent victims.

Above all, the free world must not and cannot forget that the Russian people, as Svetlana herself admits, are still enslaved by Stalin's accomplices.

Q—I blush a lot even when talking to my family and for no apparent reason. What would cause this?

A—I was beginning to think that blushing was a lost art like the quadrille. Undoubtedly, some persons blush more easily than others. The slightest show of emotion in these persons causes the blood vessels of the face, neck or upper chest to dilate. This is especially noticeable in persons with light coloring. The tendency may slowly abate after several years if one is frequently thrown into situations where one must meet new people. Some persons who blush easily become permanently red-faced, but this is in no way to threat to their health.

Ever add a little grated Parmesan cheese to an olive oil and vinegar dressing for tossed green salad? That addition of cheese is many a good salad cook's special secret!

of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stockfish Jr., Rt. 1, Cambridge, Wis., and the John E. Slains, Dixon, are parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Bernard J. Pickarts was officiating clergyman for the 1:30 p.m. double-ring wedding, when the church choir sang "Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love," and decorations included white satin pew-bows and altar bouquets of yellow and white gladioli.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was attired in a gown of imported Chantilly lace designed with trumpet sleeves, an empire bodice and an A-line skirt that extended into a peacock train. A headpiece of pearl-trimmed lace petals held her elbow-length bridal veil of English illusion, and her cascading bouquet of stephanotis and ivy was centered by a single white chrysanthemum.

Miss Audrey Stockfish, Cambridge, Wis., attended her sister as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Mary Slain, Dixon, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Phyllis Johnson, Bloomer, Wis., the bride's cousin. Their identical empire gowns of maize chiffon and lace were styled with scooped necklines and elbow-length sleeves. Tiered veiling trimmed their matching chiffon headdresses, and they carried cascades of pastel yellow and white feathered chrysanthemums.

A miniature bouquet of yellow and white chrysanthemums was carried by the flower girl, Miss Debra Wilson, Dixon, niece of the bridegroom, who wore a bow-trimmed empire frock of maize chiffon.

A pink crepe sheath was worn by Mrs. Stockfish for her daughter's wedding, and the bridegroom's mother chose a dress of blue lace. Both selected white accessories and orchid corsages.

The bridegroom's best man was his brother, Darwin Slain, Dixon; groomsmen were Edward Slain and Larry Wilson, Dixon, the bridegroom's brother and brother-in-law, and guests from Dixon, Rockford and from Bloomer, Cambridge, Lake Mills, Fort Atkinson and Milwaukee, Wis., were ushered by Robert W. Wasson, Dixon, and Timothy Leigh, Rockford.

Approximately 200 guests were entertained at a reception in the church preceding the newlyweds' departure on their honeymoon. For traveling, the bride wore a green and pink knit jacket-dress with accessories of black patent leather.

A 1965 graduate of Lake Mills High School, she attended the Rockford School of Business and Engineering, and is employed as a secretary for the Pederson, Menzimer, Conde and Stoner law firm in Rockford.

Following his graduation in 1964 from Dixon High School, Mr. Slain also attended the Rockford School of Business and Engineering, and is an employee of the United Parcel Service in Rockford.

Miss Rhonda Wiltfang Is Bride of Mr. Plum

STILLMAN VALLEY — Miss Rhonda Jean Wiltfang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram S. Wiltfang, Stillman Valley, became the bride of Theodore A. Plum, son of Mrs. S. J. Plum, Ashton, and the late Mr. Plum, in a candlelight wedding held Aug. 26 in the Congregational Christian Church.

Dr. Walter Schlaretzki, pastor of the church, was assisted in performing the double-ring wedding by the Rev. Russell Dierckorf, St. Paul, Minn., and nuptial music was provided by Miss Barbara Baker, Monroe Center, organist, and Michael Grennan, vocalist. Their selections included "Wedding Prayer," "O Promise Me" and "Because."

An altar arrangement of white roses and foliage was flanked by candelabras holding lighted tapers and bouquets of blue-tipped white carnations.

The bride's white Chantilly lace gown combined a floor-length skirt and an empire bodice styled with lace sleeves. Her bridal veil was attached to a cluster of lilies, and as she was escorted to the altar by her father, she carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy strands.

Mrs. Forrest L. Farbo was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Nona Peters, Monroe Center; Miss Connie Peters, Davis Junction, and Miss Marcia Wiltfang.

Mrs. Farbo was attired in a medium blue full-length gown featuring a taffeta skirt and a lace bodice, and identically styled pastel blue gowns were worn by the bridesmaids. Matching headdresses and elbow-length white gloves completed their costumes, and they carried bouquets of blue carnations centered with clusters of white roses.

A beige sheath overlaid with brown lace was worn with beige accessories by Mrs. Wiltfang, and matching accessories complemented the jade green costume worn by the bridegroom's mother. Their flowers were shoulder corsages of pink rosebuds.

Jerry Griffin, Ashton, acted as Mr. Plum's best man; groomsmen were Gary Bunker, Ashton, and Wayne King, Kewanee, and ushers for the ceremony were Leon Vaupel, Davis Junction, Forrest L. Farbo and Douglas Lowenstein.

Preceding their departure on a wedding trip, the newlyweds were honored at a reception held in the church social hall.

For traveling, the bride wore a white cotton sheath covered with lace and accented by blue accessories. She is a graduate of Stillman Valley High School, and Mr. Plum, who graduated from Ashton High School, is enrolled as a student at Western Illinois University, Macomb, where they are residing.

20 years from now the electric heating in your home will still be one of the brightest ideas you ever had.

Only an electric heating system will be just as modern in twenty years as today. It will probably outlast your mortgage. (No other heating system can make that statement.)

Electric heat has other things going for it, too. Like flexibility, cleanliness, economy of installation, silence, trouble-free operation, odorlessness, and five different types of systems to choose from.

All of which adds up to keeping your home bright and modern for many years to come. And electricity is making it possible. Check into electric heat... the modern heat.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE D-549: Lois, D., aged 27, conducts a Charm School.
"Dr. Crane," she began, "I wish you would wake up a lot of modern women to the simply psychology of styles and fashions."
"Many girls will thus adopt the very fads that make them look their worst!"
"Can't you warn women against being such silly sheep?"
Once each semester at Northwestern University I would schedule a public lecture on "Charm."

My students could then invite their friends and relatives.
So we'd require the auditorium at our Law School to hold the crowd.
Although I don't claim to be an artist, I'd even illustrate on the blackboard many of the psychological points about women's fashions.
For example, I'd show why ultra short skirts (miniskirts) are absolutely taboo for fat girls and those with bowlegs or knock-knees!

If a girl has bowlegs, which look like a pair of parentheses (), then a longer skirt will hide the upper half of the arcs.
This will then make the lower halves seem less bent!
And if she will wear hose with seams, then she should carefully avoid letting the seams follow the curved legs.
Instead, move those seams slightly to the inside and keep them straight, for then the straight seams will help neutralize the outward curves of her bowlegs.
Don't blindly follow the bizarre women's styles or madly stampede into adopting fads that make you look ludicrous or topheavy!
You can always vary the length of your skirt by a couple of inches without being obvious.

So always adapt the fad to your own cosmetic advantage! Lengthen the skirts slightly to hide your knock-knees or knotty knees and bowlegs.

If you are too fat, then a diet is obviously the best remedy.
But meanwhile, you can reduce your apparent obesity by as much as 10 per cent merely by the way you dress.

For instance, fat women should avoid anything that makes the eyes of their companions travel East and West, or crosswise.

Thus, omit belted frocks and jacket suits where the lower line of the jacket adds another crosswise line.

Instead, pick fabrics with fine vertical pin stripes to make the eyes go up and down (North and South (and thus create the psychological illusion of more height).

Checkered patterns, plus large flowered designs, also make you seem fatter. Light colors "fatten" your appearance. Dark hues slenderize!

Fatties, don't use square-cut necks in your dresses. And avoid a tight strand of beads that crosses your throat.

Instead, use a deep V-neck and also a long strand of beads to add more of those vertical lines that slenderize your figure.

Also, avoid rings on your stubby, fat fingers, for they also exaggerate your plumpness.

Avoid thick or fur coats and mink stoles, for they make an average wife look elephantine!

Slender girls can use the above rules in reverse in order to make themselves appear less skinny or "bony." More tomorrow!

Send for my booklet "Formula for Being an Interesting Conversationalist and Personality Improvement," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Owls and other night birds have very large eyes to aid them to see in twilight or moonlight, but they can also see by day.

'The Trip' Draws Condemned Rating

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In the movie "The Trip," Peter Fonda climbs nude out of a swimming pool, the upper portion of his bare buttocks clearly in view.

In two sequences he and shapely Salli Sachse, apparently clothed only in a kaleidoscopic display of psychedelic lights, thrash about on a bed in torrid embrace.

"Condemned" was the National Catholic Office of Motion Pictures' rating for the American International film about LSD. But the criticism didn't end there.

The National Association of Broadcasters advised its 396 member television stations not to use a "Trip" commercial that showed the swimming scene and the couple embracing.

Also objected to were the phrases "blow your mind" and "freak out."

The broadcasters' code authority called the TV-radio promotion an affront to "good taste, community attitudes and responsibility to children."

It noted a code restriction on treatment of hallucinogenic drugs that would "glamorize or excite interest in the subject."

American International says one or two dozen stations showed the commercial without incident until a Mason City, Iowa, station brought it to the NAB's attention.

After the NAB complaint, the studio deleted the swimming scene from the commercial, cut the embrace to a flash quickly covered by printed words and dropped the criticized phrases.

The broadcasters' association approved the revised commercial and it is being used in various cities, AI says.

"The Trip" carries no seal indicating compliance with the film production code regulating depiction of violence, sex, etc., and administered by the Motion Picture Association of America.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching,
Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases — to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests by doctors proved that in case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H®. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection.

In ointment or suppository form.

of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H®. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection.

AI says it's not a member of the association so didn't submit the picture for a seal.

The association says most independent producers submit their films for seals but AI customarily does not.

Many films, actually, are released without the seal: burlesque and nude movies and hundreds of French, Italian, Swedish and other imports including about 200 annually from Hong Kong.

"But these are not important films," says a Motion Picture Association official. "Most of the business is done by pictures that have the seal."

AI reported, meanwhile, that in its first week at an 800-seat Los Angeles theater "The Trip" grossed $18,000. A spokesman termed that "very good."

Enrollment Is Increased

ASHTON — Enrollment at the Ashton Schools continued to increase as late registration added students to the rolls. A report filed with the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction indicates a total enrollment of 598 students.

This is an increase of 38 over the spring enrollment of 560 which was the previous high. However, 26 of these students are residents of two camps for migrant workers located in district No. 25. It is expected that many of these children will leave after about one month.

Guest Night Is Planned

The Sterling-Rock Falls chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc., will hold their annual guest night for the ladies of the Sterling-Rock Falls area and surrounding communities on Wednesday at 8:00 p.m. on the second floor of the Elks Club in Sterling.

This group is comprised of women over the age of 18 years who are interested in singing four part harmony and enjoy entertaining people.

The evening has been planned to include singing, entertainment, demonstration of learning techniques and refreshments. All interested women are cordially urged to attend this evening of "Harmonizing The World."

Miss Flame Is Named

FORRESTON — Miss Tina Fandel, 17, Forreston, was crowned Miss Flame of Forreston at ceremonies here Saturday at 7:30 p.m. Tina is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sellers. She will compete with other area Miss Flame winners for the title of Miss Blackhawk at a contest which will be held at Tampico Oct. 14 during Fire Prevention Week.

Miss Barbara Gronewald, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gronewald, rural Forreston, was first runner-up.

Susan Edwards, Kathy Russell and Deborah Stiles, three contestants for the title of Dixon Miss Flame, took part in the parade and rode on the Dixon Petunia Festival float.

There were 16 area fire departments and 14 decorated floats represented in the parade.

2 Counts Bring Fine, Sentence

George F. Gillian, 41, 212 Boyd St., today was fined $25 and costs by Magistrate Morey Pires after pleading guilty to disorderly conduct and sentenced to two days in jail for drunkenness.

Dixon Police Officer Robert Mulkins signed the complaint against Gillian for disorderly conduct for using abusive and foul language to a police officer while police were putting Gillian into a cell on the drunk charge.

Deaths and Funerals

Anna M. Brinker

MOUNT MORRIS — Anna M. Brinker, 87, 12 W. Third St., died Saturday in the Americana Nursing Home following a long illness.

She was born Dec. 10, 1879, at Adeline, the daughter of Henry C. and Melinda Rohns Garkey.

She married Lewis Brinker Feb. 6, 1902, at Mount Morris. Mrs. Brinker was a member of the Sunshine Circle of the Methodist Church.

She was preceded in death by her husband.

Survivors include two brothers, Jess, Rockford, and Roy, Oregon.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Methodist Church with the Rev. Clair Deming officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery.

Friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. today in the Finch Funeral Home.

India and Red China fought a bloody border war in 1962 high in the Himalayas and there have been numerous incidents since. Last week each side began massing troops on each side of the border near the pass — also called Nalu La Pass.

Tension began increasing Thursday when the Indian government said 60 Chinese soldiers entered Sikkim. They came back Saturday and Sunday but withdrew when India warned it would fire if they came back again. Their positions were barely 100 yards apart.

The increased border tension appeared symptomatic of the turmoil inside China itself. The Chinese, suspicious of their neighbors, also have had border clashes with Soviet troops in Siberia and Thai and Burmese troops in the south.

Although Sikkim is an independent monarchy, it and neighboring Bhutan are protected by the Indian army, a job held by the British before India became independent in 1947.

The Himalayan country of Tibet long has been overrun by the Chinese Communists. Nepal remains independent.

Sikkim, with an area of 3,000 square miles and a population of 161,080, is ruled over by the maharajah who ascended the throne Dec. 2, 1963, and who was married on March 20 of that year to Miss Cook in a Buddhist ceremony.

Bulletins

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The Illinois senate opened its session today with a tribute to Sen. Joseph Peterson (R-Princeton) who died last month.

Sen. W. Russell Arrington of Evanston, Republican majority leader, said the "enduring memory of Joe Peterson will be the dignity he seemed to exude."

"Each of us respected and loved Joe Peterson and we will miss him," Arrington said.

Peterson served as an assistant GOP leader under Arrington the past four years and was a member of the Senate 10 years.

Man Injured In Accident

ROCHELLE — Darrell Rainwater, 18, Rochelle, is listed in good condition in Rochelle Community Hospital following an accident Saturday on a blacktop road one mile southeast of here.

Rainwater was driving an eastbound motorcycle, reportedly attempted a U-turn, and was struck in the westbound lane by an eastbound auto driven by Jesse Macklin, 40, Steward.

According to police reports damage to both vehicles was minor and no tickets have been issued as the accident is still under investigation.

Capitol police took all five demonstrators into custody and hustled them to a detention room near the Senate chamber.

Others in the group were identified as Reggi Johnson, Washington D.C.; Eleanor Dorsey, Beverly, Mass., who said she was a student at Cornell University, and Jill Boskey, West Orange, N.J.

The fifth demonstrator identified himself as Rodney Robinson of Washington, D.C., and Redwood City, Calif.

After the demonstrators were removed, the Senate resumed routine business.

The demonstrators were in the front row of the visitors' gallery and started dropping the leaflets about 10 minutes after the Senate convened at noon EDT.

Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, was reading a speech on Greece when the leaflets began fluttering to the floor. As soon as the outburst began, Harris announced that no demonstrations were allowed in the Senate chamber.

When that failed to end the interruption, acting Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., moved that the Senate recess. Harris swiftly complied.

Both the House and Senate had only routine business scheduled on their return from the 10-day vacation, although they faced a heavy backlog of unfinished legislation such as bills to raise taxes, postal rates and Social Security benefits. Pickup 3rd pgh: "We'll be ROCHELLE — Mrs. Stella Wetzel, 20, Ashton, was released from Rochelle Community Hospital early today, and her 10-month-old son, Allan, is listed in good condition there, where they were both admitted Saturday afternoon following a two-car accident on U.S. Alt. 30, about four miles west of here.

The Wetzel auto was westbound when an auto driven by Jimmie Jordan, 26, Rochelle, made a wide right turn onto U.S. Alt. 30 from a gravel road, and struck the Wetzel car head-on.

According to police reports Jordan was arrested for reckless driving and for illegal possession of liquor in a motor vehicle. Damage to the Wetzel auto was $2,000 and the estimated damage to the Jordan auto was about $200.

Square Dance Set Tonight

HARMON — The Harmon Swinging Stars are opening their square dance season with a dance today at 8 p.m. in the Harmon Community Building. The square dance caller will be Harold Lund. Refreshments will be served.

Will Explain College Seminar

Donald Burton, acting chairman, Department of Business, Sauk Valley College, will explain the college's management seminar when he speaks at a meeting of the Industrial Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, to be held in the Nachusa House Thursday at noon.

The Retail-Service Bureau of the chamber will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., in the chamber offices.

Moonlight Madness is scheduled for Sept. 18 from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Happy Birthday To Josephine Cochran, today.

Lynda Will Be December Bride

WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House wedding in early December is planned for Lynda Bird Johnson and Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, who met the President's daughter in the line of duty.

Smiling, holding hands, the young couple flew back from Texas Sunday night aboard the presidential jet plane after President and Mrs. Johnson announced their engagement from the LBJ ranch.

Lynda, 23, the Johnsons' older daughter, showed off her sparkling diamond engagement ring, but ignored photographers' requests to kiss her 28-year-old fiancé, a tall, slender, dark-haired young man from Milwaukee, Wis.

The surprise announcement of Lynda's engagement ended continued speculation over the romantic interest of the President's daughter. She had numerous beaux through the years and broke an engagement to a young Navy lieutenant three years ago.

Until Robb came along, Lynda had been dating Hollywood actor George Hamilton more than anyone else. A few weeks ago, though, Hamilton declared "marriage is not in the immediate future."

Robb, who plans to make the Marines his career and is scheduled to go to Vietnam in February, first met Lynda a little more than a year ago when he was assigned to the White House as a military social aide. She called on him to make a fourth at bridge for a third floor solarium card game.

They didn't start dating steadily, though, until the past four months.

There was excitement and happiness in the Johnson family over Lynda's news, and her younger sister, Luci, 20, now Mrs. Patrick J. Nugent and mother of an 11-week son, shared it.

In Milwaukee Robb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Robb, said Chuck told them about a month ago he'd "decided to take the big step."

"He swore me to utter secrecy," Mrs. Robb told newsmen. The young Marine's father, an airline sales executive, said, "we were worried that he was going to be a confirmed bachelor all his life."

The romance between Lynda and the young Marine attracted attention in recent weeks as they spent weekends on the beach at nearby Rehoboth Beach, Del., and were constantly photographed.

Both are Episcopalians and they plan to be married by an Episcopalian minister in the White House. It will be early in December, but no exact date has been set.

ed Tuesday, supervisors will be asked to recreate the Public Commission in order to get a new county jail.

The Building Committee of the board will reportedly make a recommendation to supervisors that the now defunct commission be recreated toward getting the county a new jail.

Voters here have voted down a new jail referendum twice in 1966 and in 1958 voted down a referendum for an annex to the present jail.

After the 1958 issue was defeated, supervisors in late 1964 established the building commission in an effort to get a new jail, but the commission, after studying needs and the problem, was dissolved in November, 1965.

During its existence the commission reported it felt that in addition to a new jail other buildings were needed and said it would make a report to the supervisors on Nov. 10, 1965.

That report included a recommendation to dissolve the commission which was done. Supervisors now feel that in view of the recently defeated referendum and the continuing deterioration of present facilities, a new commission should be created.

Talk at recent supervisor meetings indicated many members favored a county-city building. The trend of thought may continue in this vein with the building committee's recommendation.

House wedding of a president's daughter since Woodrow Wilson's daughter, Eleanor, was married there in 1914 to Secretary of the Treasury William McAdoo.

Lynda, a history major, was graduated with honors from the University of Texas in June 1965 and now holds a $10,000-a-year, part-time magazine writing job. She has not indicated whether she will continue working after her marriage.

Robb, who has two brothers and a sister, was born in Phoenix, Ariz., attended Cornell University for a year and then transferred to the University of Wisconsin. He was graduated with honors, too, in 1961, having majored in business administration.

United Packinghouse negotiators voted unanimously to accept the new pact and a spokesman for the union said he thought the members would accept the proposal.

The old contract had expired Aug. 31 but the company and union were operating under an agreed extension of the contract made when talks had failed to produce a settlement.

They will continue to operate under the extension until the new contract is either ratified or rejected. Federal mediators who assisted the two sides in reaching the agreement said that the ratification vote would be within 10 days.

United Packinghouse represents meat packers in Swift plants at Chicago and Rochelle, Ill.; Grand Island and Omaha, Neb.; Kearney, N.J.; Los Angeles; Sioux City; South St. Paul; and Wilson N. C. Union members in processing and sales plants are located at Atlanta; Birmingham, Ala.; Charleston, W.Va.; Charlotte, N. Firemen Seeking Entrants

Applications are now being accepted from girls between the ages of 16 and 19 years who wish to appear in Dixon's Miss Flame contest sponsored by the Fire Department.

Winners of local Miss Flame contests will vie with each other to be named Miss Flame of the Blackhawk Fire Fighters Association.

The Dixon contest will be held Sept. 2, and the association's contest will be held in Tampico on Oct. 14.

Each contestant for Dixon Miss Flame will receive two $15 gift certificates. In addition, the girl who is runner-up to Miss Flame will receive a trophy, and Miss Flame in addition to the gift certificates and a trophy will receive a formal gown with accessories.

Miss Flame will be selected by a team of out-of-town judges. A parade will precede the Miss Flame judging and will form near Second St. and Highland Ave. and move east on Second to Hennepin, where the route will lead north to First Street and then go west to Peoria Avenue, where the route will turn north, cross the river and follow Lincoln Statue Drive to the Municipal Bandshell, where the judging will take place.

Application forms may be picked up at the Fire Department, 113 Second St., or at the office of Dixon High School. Later this week issues of The Telegraph will carry an application form which may be used to enter the contest.

Host Teachers

Members of the Chamber of Commerce will be hosts to new teachers in Dixon public and parochial schools and Sauk Valley College at a dinner to be held in the Skyline Lodge Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Report Theft

Mrs. James A. Wombwell, 1837 First St., Saturday, reported the theft of a shotgun she said was taken from a bedroom closet sometime during the past 10 days while she was vacationing.

The shotgun, Mrs. Wombwell said, is a 20 gauge L. C. Smith and reported that nothing else was missing from her home.

Firemen Seeking Entrants

Applications are now being accepted from girls between the ages of 16 and 19 years who wish to appear in Dixon's Miss Flame contest sponsored by the Fire Department.

Winners of local Miss Flame contests will vie with each other to be named Miss Flame of the Blackhawk Fire Fighters Association.

The Dixon contest will be held Sept. 2, and the association's contest will be held in Tampico on Oct. 14.

Each contestant for Dixon Miss Flame will receive two $15 gift certificates. In addition, the girl who is runner-up to Miss Flame will receive a trophy, and Miss Flame in addition to the gift certificates and a trophy will receive a formal gown with accessories.

Miss Flame will be selected by a team of out-of-town judges. A parade will precede the Miss Flame judging and will form near Second St. and Highland Ave. and move east on Second to Hennepin, where the route will lead north to First Street and then go west to Peoria Avenue, where the route will turn north, cross the river and follow Lincoln Statue Drive to the Municipal Bandshell, where the judging will take place.

Application forms may be picked up at the Fire Department, 113 Second St., or at the office of Dixon High School. Later this week issues of The Telegraph will carry an application form which may be used to enter the contest.

Host Teachers

Members of the Chamber of Commerce will be hosts to new teachers in Dixon public and parochial schools and Sauk Valley College at a dinner to be held in the Skyline Lodge Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Report Theft

Mrs. James A. Wombwell, 1837 First St., Saturday, reported the theft of a shotgun she said was taken from a bedroom closet sometime during the past 10 days while she was vacationing.

The shotgun, Mrs. Wombwell said, is a 20 gauge L. C. Smith and reported that nothing else was missing from her home.

Coast Guard Seeks Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Coast Guard is having trouble attracting Negroes into its ranks—particularly at the cadet and officer level.

Viewing his inaugural parade Jan. 20, 1961, President John F. Kennedy noted there were no Negroes in the Coast Guard Academy's cadet corps. He made his observation known to academy officials, who launched a nationwide recruiting drive at predominantly Negro high schools and colleges.

But the drive was not notably successful. The academy graduated its first Negro, Merle J. Smith of Baltimore, last June. A Guard spokesman said he is now one of five Negroes in the service's officer corps of 3,700.

Five of the academy's 700-plus cadets are Negroes. Nineteen of the Coast Guard's 1,182 warrant officers and 674 of its 30,000 enlisted men are Negroes.

Negro representation is far higher among Coast Guard civilian employees—538 Negroes among 3,170 white-collar workers and 430 among 2,600 other jobholders.

"We've made a greater effort to beat the bushes to get them to apply to the academy," a spokesman said. "But when they've got the know-how and ability to make the grade, they choose other, more lucrative fields."

Unlike the other military service academies, whose cadets are appointed by congressmen, the Coast Guard Academy requires standard college board entrance examinations and a tough physical test.

Gelino Named Assistant Here

ARTHUR J. GELINO

Arthur J. Gelino, 30, Mommence, last week assumed his new duties here as assistant manager at Montgomery Ward and Company, 110 Hennepin Ave.

A graduate of St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Ind., where he earned a B.S. degree in business administration, Gelino served for three years in the U.S. Army, spending some 2½ years stationed in Germany.

He joined the Montgomery Ward company in 1962 as a trainee in the company's management training program at Kankakee.

Gelino completed his training at Peoria, where he transferred during training, and was assigned to the company's store in Portage as assistant manager in 1964 and remained there until coming to Dixon last week.

Regional Meet Is Set Here

The fall regional meeting of the Men's Garden Clubs of Northern Illinois will be held Sunday at Lowell Park.

Registration will be at 12:30 p.m. and following a buffet style dinner and a short business meeting, C. Lyle Ballard, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce, will discuss "City Beautification and Industry."

Later in the afternoon there will be a tour of historic sites at Grand Detour.

Nelson Moms Meeting Set

NELSON — The Nelson Grade School Mothers' Club will hold its first fall meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Nelson school house. There will be the annual election of officers and refreshments will be served by the committee, following the business meeting.

Weekend Report

Traffic Accidents Kill At Least 25 in Illinois

By United Press International

Traffic accidents in Illinois killed at least 25 persons during the weekend, including eight persons in two separate collisions on Sunday.

Four persons were killed when the car they were in veered off Illinois 42 and struck a tree near Eldorado. The victims were identified as Arvil R. Vannoy, 54, Bethalto; his wife, Ruth, 55; Mrs. Irene Roberts, 44, Cottage Hills, and Mrs. J. Phillips, 35, Shawneetown.

One mile north of Utica four persons were killed and six seriously injured when a station wagon collided with a pickup truck at the intersection of U.S. 6 and Illinois 178.

The victims were identified as Larry May, 23, Minonk, driver of the station wagon, and one of his passengers, Jerry Retyak, 12, Dana; Donald Emmert, 25, Ottawa, driver of the truck, and his wife, Gail, 24.

Admitted in fair condition to St. Mary's Hospital in La Salle were Andrew Retyak, 53, father of one of the victims, and his daughter, Judy, 15, both of Dana; Mrs. Marilyn May, 21, her son, Ronald, 1, and her daughter, Pamela, 3, all of Minonk. Listed in fair condition at Ryburn-King Hospital in Ottawa, was Mrs. Rosalie Retyak, 56, Dana, mother of one of the victims. All of the injured were passengers in the station wagon.

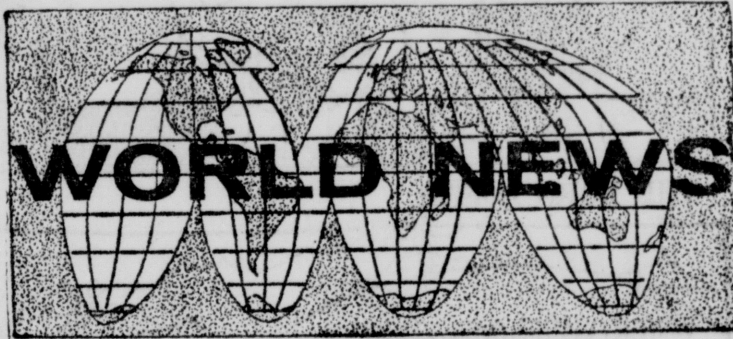

Nelson Cunningham, 46, East St. Louis, was killed Sunday night when his motorcycle collided with a car driven by Henry Metzger, 46, Highland.

Miss Mary Lou Patton, 20, Joliet, was killed when the motorcycle on which she was a passenger struck the rear of a taxicab in downtown Joliet. Police charged the driver of the cab, Floyd Orendahl, 54, Lockport, with double parking and driving without lights when required. The driver of the motorcycle, Donald H. Robertson, 28, Joliet, was admitted to Silver Cross Hospital in Joliet with serious injuries.

A Wilmington man, Jack R. Nugent, 40, was killed Sunday night when the car he was driving veered off Illinois 53 and struck a tree two miles north of his home.

Donald R. Nelson, 33, West Brooklyn, was killed Sunday night when the car he was driving collided with a semi-trailer truck, driven by Robert M. Overturf, 29, Malcom, Iowa, on U.S. 30 near West Brooklyn. Overturf was listed in satisfactory condition at Dixon Public Hospital.

ALEXANDROUPOLIS.

Greece (AP) — Turkish Premier Suleyman Demirel and Premier Constantine Kollias of Greece say they've agreed to settle the Cyprus problem peacefully.

No concrete steps were listed in their joint communique, however, as the two leaders ended talks Sunday night. Observers on both sides said the wording indicated a solution agreeable to both sides had not yet been found.

Cyprus, whose 600,000 population is 80 per cent Greek and 20 per cent Turkish, was the scene of large-scale fighting between Greek and Turkish residents in 1963. A U.N. peace-keeping force is still on duty.

The Greeks want Cyprus united with Greece. Turkey opposes this, and it is generally believed that the island's Greek Cypriot president, Archbishop Makarios, is not enthusiastic about it although he has endorsed the unity movement, known as Enosis.

MOSCOW (AP) — R. Dabney Chapman, press attache of the U.S. Embassy for the past year, was expelled from the Soviet Union today and left with his wife and four children for Copenhagen and Washington.

The embassy denied that Chapman and agricultural attache Brice K. Meeker were guilty of wrongdoing. A Soviet government order Sept. 1 expelled Chapman and denied re-entry to Meeker, who was out of the country on vacation.

American sources here suggested the order was in retaliation for U.S. government charges of spy activity against two Soviet diplomats. They were told last month that they could not return to the United States.

QUEBEC (AP) — French Education Minister Alain Pellyre-fitte says his current five-day visit to Quebec Province is intended to bring "concrete results" to the July visit of President Charles de Gaulle.

Pellyrefitte said Sunday night upon arriving that his government has developed "a practical plan of action" which now must be presented to Quebec officials.

Pellyrefitte is to review with Quebec government authorities the terms of cultural and educational agreements in effect between Quebec and France since 1965. These are to be revised to help French Canadians "maintain and develop their personality," he said.

DeGaulle, in his dramatic visit to Quebec, went further than this, espousing the cause of French separatism by shouting the separatist slogan, "Long live free Quebec!"

Land Bank Group Meet Is Tuesday

AMBOY — The annual meeting of the Federal Land Bank Association of Amboy will be held Tuesday at the 4-H Center on Ill. 30, at 6:30 p.m., according to George A. King, president of the association.

Two directors will be elected for three-year terms, and Morris W. Kessinger, manager, will give the annual report. Principal speakers will be Rev. Armin G. Weng, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Oregon, and James Fulkerson, assistant vice president of the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis.

Dinner will be served by the women of the Home Extension.

New License System Told

SPRINGFIELD — Because of steadily increasing motor vehicle registrations, a new series of passenger car license numbers will be issued beginning with the 1968 registrations, Secretary of State Paul Powell announced recently.

These numbers will be made up of two letters and one and two digits, Mr. Powell said. For example, in the series beginning with AA, the numbers 1 through 99 will be issued for the first time. The same numbers will be used with other letter combinations, also for the first time.

Motorists requesting these numbers must have their applications in his office on or before September 30, Secretary Powell said. He also advised them to submit three of four alternate preferences in case he is unable to assign their first choice.

A total of 32,000 additional numbers will be gained by using one and two digits with the letter combinations, Secretary Powell said.

As in the past, the letters I, O, Q, and Z will not appear in any of the letter combinations, and certain others will not be used on passenger car plates because they apply to specific categories, such as DL, which designates dealer licenses, Mr. Powell said.

Romney Charges Fans Interest In Gov. Reagan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Michigan Gov. George Romney's troubles over his "brainwashing" charge may help fan Republican interest in the presidential prospects of California's Ronald Reagan.

Now that former movie actor Reagan has eight months of administrative experience in Sacramento, with no shattering mistakes, some Republicans are taking a longer look at the conservative governor.

They are also reviewing other long-shot possibilities, from Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., to retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, a leading critic of Johnson administration Vietnam policies and, until recently, a Democrat.

Gardiner Johnson, Republican national committeeman from California, told United Press International he was pleasantly surprised and impressed by the "general interest" he found in Reagan among fellow committee members who met here last week.

California Republican state Chairman James W. Haley said he was "delighted" that Reagan would be his state's favorite son presidential candidate next year because it would avoid a hard money-shattering primary battle.

A primary fight involving Romney, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and others would cost the candidates $5 million and would produce only a "net product of absolute fury among Republicans," he said.

Republican leaders indicate they would watch the public reaction to Reagan's utterances during a forthcoming series of party fund-raising speeches in other states.

Romney and Reagan, and possibly Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, will have a chance to confer in San Francisco next week during a Reagan-sponsored meeting on Medicaid. Romney has already announced he'll take in this session during a stopover in San Francisco on his 19-city urban tour, which starts today in Detroit.

Regardless of the individual contenders, however, the controversy over Romney's charge that the administration "brainwashed" him on the Vietnam war—and is still doing it to the country—encourages state GOP leaders to stay uncommitted as long as they can before backing any presidential candidate.

Closes Jail

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Richard Wilhelm, Carbon-dale's new director of public safety, has closed the city jail as a health hazard.

He said Saturday the jail was "uninhabitable for human beings," lacked proper sanitation, had poor sleeping accommodations and improper ventilation. He said prisoners will be housed in the Jackson County Jail at nearby Murphysboro.

Wilhelm, former police chief at Pineallas Park, Fla., assumed his post in Carbondale Monday.

The city has budgeted $5,000 for remodeling the city jail.

Meeting Tonight

HARMON — The Harmon Ups A Daisy 4-H Club will meet tonight at 7 p.m. in the home of Mrs. John Butler. Books from last year can be picked up at that time. Anyone who cannot attend the meeting should call Mrs. Butler 356-7373.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Sept. 11, the 254th day of 1967. There are 111 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1814, an American fleet scored a decisive victory over the British in the Battle of Lake Champlain in the War of 1812.

On this date:

In 1777, Gen. George Washington's forces were defeated in the Battle of Brandywine, near Wilmington, Del., during the revolutionary War.

In 1850, singer Jenny Lind, called "The Swedish Nightingale," gave her first American concert at Castle Garden in New York.

In 1862, the short story writer O. Henry—William Sydney Porter—was born in Greensboro, N.C.

In 1940, Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the British to be prepared for an attempted German invasion.

In 1941, Charles A. Lindbergh told an America First rally in Des Moines the United States was being pushed into war by the British, the Jews and the Roosevelt administration.

In 1963, segregation ended at the University of South Carolina as three Negroes were enrolled without incident.

Ten years ago—The Soviet Union accused Turkey of deploying troops along the Syrian border in preparation for an attack.

Five years ago—President John F. Kennedy began an inspection tour of U.S. space installations.

One year ago—There was a large turnout in South Vietnam to elect a Constituent Assembly.

Horlen Hurls No-Hitter; Sox Win 2

Saturday Nightmare Forgotten

By United Press International

"The walking dead are walking again," said the stocky guy whose middle-aged face still has a mean-little-kid quality to it. "Every time they dig the grave we bounce back."

The speaker was Eddie Stanky, the fiery manager of the Chicago White Sox and he was talking about his baffling team, which just won't believe it doesn't have enough talent to be in a pennant fight.

Stanky talked between bites of a sandwich in the clubhouse and over the din of happy shouts coming from the locker room, where almost everyone was trying to get at Sox Pitcher Joel Horlen, who had just tossed a 6-0 no-hitter against the Detroit Tigers in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader at Chicago.

"This wasn't an ordinary no-hit game," said Stanky. "Not ordinary. Detroit won yesterday's (Saturday) game with seven runs in the ninth. We were hearing that the loss might cost us the pennant."

"We Bounce Back"

"But every time they dig that grave, we bounce back. We bounce back."

And Stanky was right. The Sox continued bouncing in the second game and shutout the Tigers again, 4-0, to gain an important split in the four game series and move into third place, 1½ games behind the Minnesota Twins.

The Chicago Cubs did not fare as well, losing a tough single game to the San Francisco Giants, 2-1, to drop into fourth place in the National League. The Cubs are 11½ games behind the first-place St. Louis Cardinals, one game behind the second place Giants and one-half game behind the Cincinnati Reds.

While Stanky talked in his office cubicle, Horlen was talking in the locker room.

An Important Game

"I knew the importance of this game," said the 30-year-old right hander. "This game was important mentally to us. After Saturday's game this clubhouse was the deadead it has been all year. I still don't know how we lost that ball game."

Horlen was talking about the game in which the day before the Tigers, trailing, 3-0, going into the ninth and facing White Sox ace Gary Peters, had sent 13 men to the plate and erupted for seven runs to take a 7-3 victory.

Horlen sailed through the Tiger lineup Sunday, facing only 28 men and allowing only one runner to advance beyond first.

His tightest moment came in the ninth inning when Jerry Lumpe hit a sharp grounder through the middle. But Sox second baseman Wayne Causey went far to his right behind second, whirled and threw a strike to first to nip Lumpe by half a heart beat.

"It was close but he was out," said White Sox catcher J. C. Martin, who followed Lumpe down the line.

Makes Two Trips

Martin made two trips to the mound during the ninth inning. "He didn't seem excited but I knew he was," said Martin about Horlen. "I just told him not to throw them anything good—nothing down the middle. In a possible no-hitter with a big lead you would rather walk a man than take a chance on letting him hit something good."

Horlen, who threw the first Sox no-hitter since 1958, said his success was built on "control and a fastball that was sinking. I threw some curves early but they weren't getting over so I concentrated on the fastball."

Winner of the second game was Cisco Carlos, with his first big league victory.

Carlos was relieved by Hoyt Wilhelm and Bob Locker, who teamed up for three innings of one-hit relief work.

The Sox take on Baltimore tonight and will start Fred Klages (4-3) against the Orioles' Rock Hardin (5-2). The Cubs travel to Houston tonight and will go with either Bill Hands (7-7) or Ray Culp (8-11) against the Astros' Dave Giusti (10-15).

No-Hitter 1st In Decade for Chicagoan

By SANDY PRISANT
UPI Sports Writer

A funny thing happened to Jo Horlen Sunday. He pitched a no-hitter—and won.

The Chicago White Sox' righthander is the classic example of how won-lost records tell little white lies about pitchers. He had never won more than 13 games in a season before 1967.

Last year he had a crack at winning the American League earned run average crown—and become the first man with a losing record to do so. And in 1963 he pitched eight and 1-3 innings of hitless ball against Washington only to give up two hits in the bottom of the ninth and lose the game 2-1 when Don Lock slammed a two-run homer with two out.

It might have been more appropriate if the stocky Texan had retired all 27 Detroit batters Sunday and still found a way to blow the game.

First In Decade

Instead he recorded the 13th shutout of his five-year major-league career and his fourth of the season while becoming the first Chicago pitcher in 10 years to hurl a no-hitter as the Sox downed the Tigers 6-0 to snap a five-game losing streak and went on to take the second game of their twin bill 4-0.

The two victories moved the Sox back into third place over the Tigers.

Minnesota broke out of its first place tie with Detroit by whipping Baltimore 4-2 and remained a half-game ahead of Boston, which knocked off New York 9-1 to jump into second place. The Tigers and White Sox are both one and one-half games behind, but the White Sox' have it on percentage.

Race Permit Pulled at Aurora Downs

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Illinois Racing Board has revoked the permit of financially troubled Aurora Downs, which was preparing for 66 nights of harness racing from Dec. 1 through Feb. 19.

Board chairman Francis E. Crosby made the announcement Saturday after a 40-minute executive session during which board members reviewed the findings of an investigation by the Illinois Attorney General's office.

The investigation reportedly revealed a total of more than $2.8 million in liens, law suits, mortgages and judgements against the track.

Denver's Dream of Grandeur Broken

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Anybody want a slightly used slipper? Cheap? The one the Denver Broncos have been wearing for the last month suddenly doesn't fit so well any more.

The Cinderella story the Broncos, doormats of the American Football League last season, had been re-enacting for the last four weeks came to an unscheduled end Sunday as Denver was decimated by the Oakland Raiders 51-0.

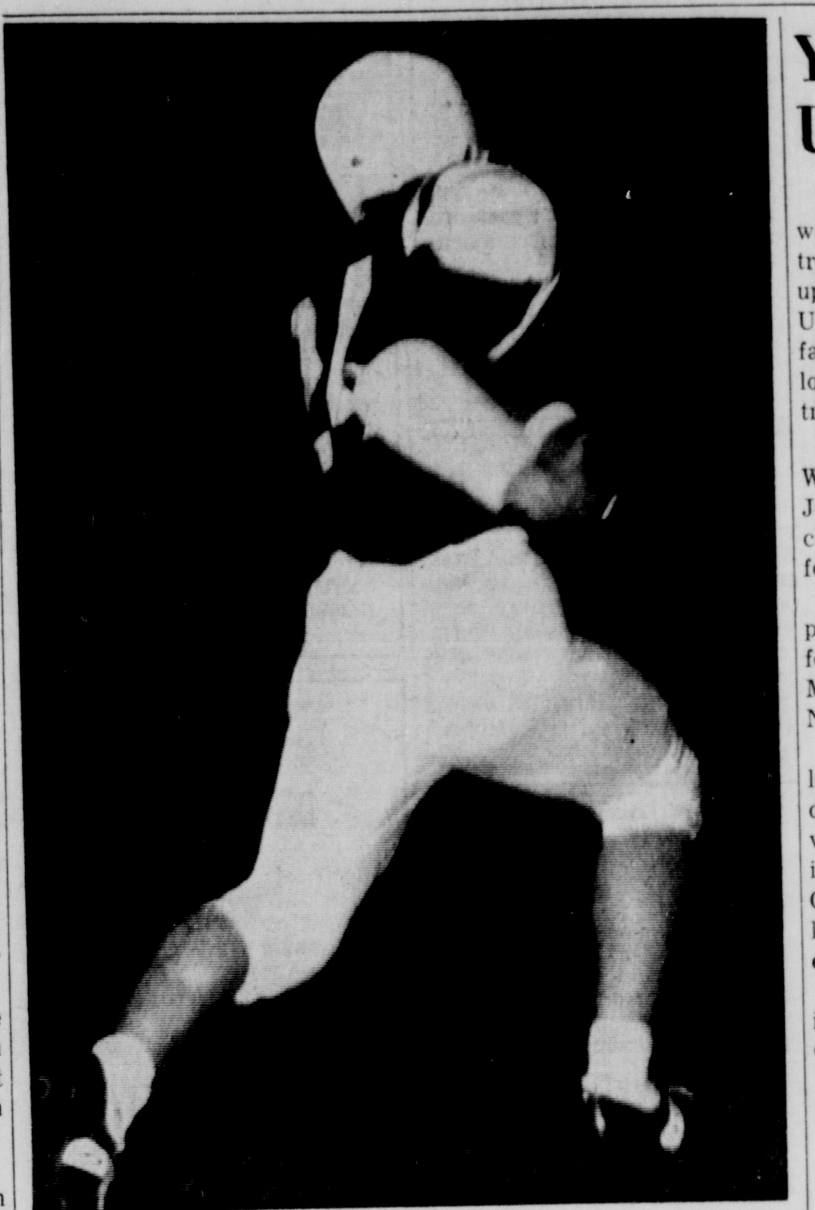

The Broncos lost their first exhibition game, but then went on to slash through four foes, including National Football League opponents Detroit and Minnesota as well as these very same Raiders. In their regular season opener against Boston last week, the Broncos won again.

What happened between last week and this remains a question for Coach Lou Saban to struggle with in the coming days.

"They just kicked the stuffing out of us," Saban said. "What else can you say?"

In another AFL game Sunday, Buffalo beat New York 20-17 and, in an NFL exhibition, Cleveland pounded Minnesota 42-14.

Flanagan Gallops 86 Yards

Irl Flanagan, 24, pictured above, is shown as he neared the end of his 86-yard gallop Saturday night in a public scrimmage. The two-hour show saw freshmen, sophomores and varsity candidates perform for the benefit of their parents.

Johnson Injured

The football title hopes of Coach Charles Vail's Dixon Dukes have received a serious setback as a result of a public scrimmage Saturday night.

Bob Johnson, the squad's number-two quarterback and pilot of last year's sophomore squad which went undefeated, received a non-permanent back injury which will prohibit him from participating in football for the remainder of the season.

Johnson was injured sometime during a football scrimmage held Saturday for the benefit of parents and friends of the school.

Some 300 persons looked on as the dazzling Dukes rolled to victory over their fellow classmates. The show had its weak points, but overall it was an impressive sight. The arms of Bob Johnson and Skip Jones moved the Dukes downfield four times in the first half.

But it was while awaiting the start of the third period that Johnson suddenly collapsed.

Taken to KSB Hospital, the junior was X-ray examined and the back injury discovered.

Billie Jean, John Win U.S. Tennis Crowns

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI)—Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., and Australia's John Newcombe, winners at Wimbledon, did it all over again in the U.S. Lawn Tennis Championships at Forest Hills.

They did it with the best shots in the world—and a completely different mental state.

"I wanted this one so badly the pressure almost got to me," said the 23-year-old Billie Jean after she had slashed and sometimes bungled her way to an 11-9, 6-4, victory over limping lefty Ann Haydon Jones of Great Britain. "I played worse than at Wimbledon."

"Winning Wimbledon gave me confidence and the knowledge I could get out of tight spots," said the 23-year-old Newcombe, who bowled over slugging Chuck Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, 6-4, 6-4, 8-6 to give his nation the men's crown for the 10th time in the last 12 years.

Determined Contender

In giving the U.S. its first winner since 1961, Billie Jean had to beat a far more determined Mrs. Jones than she had trounced in the Wimbledon final at 6-4, 6-3.

The 28-year-old British blonde fought off nine set points before giving up in the first set and came close to bringing off a terrific comeback in the second set after collapsing with a leg injury while serving in the fourth game.

Graebner, 23-year-old, 6-2 slugger who gave the U.S. its first finalist since Frank Froehling made it against Rafael Osuna four years ago, went in against Newcombe with a pulled stomach muscle suffered against Roy Emerson of Australia in the quarters.

Nicklaus in Come From Behind Win

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — The wind, radio and cold weather may bother Jack Nicklaus as much as the next golfer, but when he smells that hard cash, the elements just take a back seat.

Husky Jack, the strong boy from Columbus, proved stronger than a 25 to 30 miles per hour wind Sunday when he made up a four-stroke deficit and then won the sixth World Series of Golf by a stroke.

The victory, thanks to a wind-blown final round 70 over the monster 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club Course, earned Nicklaus a $50,000 check, his second such payoff in less than two weeks.

"I think it's wonderful the sponsors can afford these high purses, and it's good they can keep making money at them," Nicklaus remarked in the press tent following his come from behind victory.

Yachting Cup Up for Grabs

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—The world's most prized yachting trophy, the America's Cup, goes up for grabs Tuesday with the United States' Intrepid a slight favorite to extend this country's long domination against an Australian challenge.

Dame Pattie, designed by Warwick Hood and skippered by Jock Sturrock, is the Australian challenger in the best-of-7 series for 12-meter yachts.

Intrepid, designed by Olin Stephens specifically for this defense, will be skippered by Bus Mosbacher of White Plains, N.Y., a 46-year-old veteran.

The United States never has lost a series in 19 challenges dating back to 1851, and the silver cup has never move from its stand at the New York Yacht Club. The last previous challenge was in 1952—the only other one by Australia.

In that one, Mosbacher, sailing Weatherly, beat Sturrock in Gretel four races to one.

The Australians insist that this time will be different.

The races will be sailed over a 23.4-mile course seven miles south-southeast of Brenton Reef Tower in Rhode Island Sound. Races will not be sailed in fog or extreme calm or extremely stormy conditions. The yachts must finish by 6 p.m., EDT, daily or the race will be called no contest.

Illini Attack Will Be Naponic to Wright

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Prior to last March 19, Jim Valek had only the interest of a distant alumnus in how scandal-stung Illinois' football team would fare this fall as a promising Big Ten contender which also must take on Notre Dame.

That was the date three Illini coaches, including football boss Pete Elliott, were forced to resign in the wake of the school's self-disclosed $21,000 slush fund scandal.

A few days later, just before spring practice, Valek was summoned by his alma mater to take over Elliott's squad which in 1966 had a 4-6 over-all record, but it was tabbed a comer after finishing tied for third in the Big Ten with rapidly improving youngsters.

An aide to Paul Dietzel at Army from 1960 to 1965, and at South Carolina last year, Valek is playing it cautiously with an Illini squad bulwarked by 23 lettermen, including 15 holdover starters.

Will the Elliott recruited and groomed veterans be goaded to exceptional play by still-smoldering resentment of the Big Ten ruling that forced Elliott to quit and the NCAA ban of the Illini from the Rose Bowl for two seasons?

Valek, who was a star Illini end in the late 1940's and helped in a 45-14 Rose Bowl crunching of UCLA in 1947, commented: "What happened last winter is a closed book. There is no use beating a dead horse."

"All I know is that from the very first day of spring practice, the squad has been in good spirits. The whole team reported at regular weights, or lower than prescribed."

A few railbirds have suggested that Illinois not only could challenge the Big Ten title reign of Michigan State, but also might wind up among the nation's top ten.

"Maybe they know something I don't," quipped Valek, who has refrained from any drastic changes of Elliott's system. "We're real short of backs, offensively and defensively. Unless we go without an injury, we can't even approach an exceptional season."

Valek isn't discounting the fact Illinois has one of the nation's fine passing combinations in quarterback Bob Naponic and split-end John Wright, a speedster who already holds all Illini season and career pass-receiving records.

"Unless opponents double or triple team Wright on defense, we'll be throwing the ball to him all the way," said Valek, adding the fleet Wright also may return kicks under the new punt rule.

Valek hints the two-year Rose Bowl ban could dim Illini zest.

"There's no question the Rose Bowl is a great incentive," said the new coach. "It gives a potential conference champion a little extra something you often need to win—that hungry feeling."

Although Illinois' seven-game conference schedule does not include defending champion Michigan State, the most important test may be the Oct. 21 battle here with independent Notre Dame.

The mid-season clash with Notre Dame—last met by Illinois in 1946, when Valek was an Illini sophomore—comes after two Illinois conference games against Indiana and Minnesota, and before a Big Ten string against Ohio State, Purdue, Northwestern and Iowa.

"We're not thinking about Notre Dame until the week we play them," said Valek. "We hope, though, we can give them a good game."

Beyond Coach Elliott, the biggest football loss stemming from the Illini scandal was permanent ineligibility of swift half-back Cyril Pinder.

That trimmed Valek's experienced ball-carriers to 158-pound Bill Huston, Rich Johnson and co-captain Ron Bess, who with the other co-captain, defensive end Ken Kmiec, have been pressed into Valek's stripped secondary defense.

The interior offensive line also is a problem but defensively Valek has some standouts in 237-pound tackle Tony Pleviak, 229-pound guard Fritz Harms and middle linebacker Dave Tomasula, as well as Kmiec, a 192-pound tackling tiger.

The heat, Florida style, will be on the Illini in their Sept. 23 afternoon opener against Florida's Gators at Gainesville. (Next: Purdue)

Scoreless Skein Snapped

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The string didn't run out on Gaylord Perry. He pulled it himself.

Perry, San Francisco's strong-armed right-hander, beat the Chicago Cubs 2-1 Sunday with a three-hitter. But his string of successive scoreless innings was broken at 4-0... just 6 1-3 innings short of Carl Hubbell's National League record.

"I'm sorry it had to happen, but I'm glad I have no one to blame but myself," said Perry, whose two-base throwing error in the seventh inning set up the Cubs' run.

The Giants' eighth victory in nine games lifted them into second place, 10 games behind St. Louis' runaway leaders, who were beaten by Pittsburgh 8-7, and one-half game ahead of the Cincinnati Reds, who trimmed the New York Mets 5-2.

Philadelphia slammed Atlanta 10-5 and Los Angeles split a doubleheader with Houston, winning 4-1 before bowing 1-0 in 11 innings, in other NL action.

Perry, whose previous three starts had produced two shutouts and a 16-inning scoreless stint without a decision, breezed past the Cubs until the seventh, when Ron Santo drew a leadoff walk.

The Giants pitcher then fielded Ernie Banks' tap to the mound and went to second for a force play... only to have his throw sail into center field as Santo sped to third. Santo then scored as Bob Raudman grounded into a double play.

The error cost Perry a shot at the 34-year-old record set by Hubbell, the former Giants ace who now directs the club's farm system. But the slender fireballer can take solace in a late spurt that has boosted his season mark to 13-15 while lowering his ERA to 2.75.

Maury Wills lashed a two-run triple in the eighth inning and scored on an infield out, capping a four-run uprising that carried the Pirates past St. Louis.

Lee May cracked a two-run homer and winning pitcher Jim Maloney's RBI single climaxed a decisive two-run burst in the fifth inning, leading the Reds' attack at New York.

Tony Gonzalez collected three hits and Cookie Rojas slugged the first grand slam homer of his career as the Phillies outscored Atlanta to give Jim Bunning his 17th victory.

Jim Wynn earned Houston a split at Los Angeles and took over the league home run lead by slamming his 36th of the year in the 11th inning of the nightcap. Bo Belinsky, who pitched nine brilliant innings, and winner Dave Eilers limited the Dodgers to three hits.

The Dodgers struck for four runs in the seventh inning of the opener to overcome a 1-0 Houston lead and give rookie Bill Singer his 11th victory in 17 decisions.

WOMEN SUFFER WITH BLADDER IRRITATION

Common Kidney or Bladder Irritations affect twice as many women as men, often causing tenderness and nervousness from frequent, burning, itching urination. Secondly, you may lose sleep and have headaches, backaches and feel older, tired, depressed. In such cases, CYSTEX usually brings relaxing comfort by curbing germs in acid urine, and easing pain. Get CYSTEX at drugists today.

American Bombs Hitting Bridges

Mount Morris News Notes

MOUNT MORRIS — A questionnaire surveying all the confirmed members of Trinity Lutheran Church, Mount Morris, was sent this week to over 700 persons with an answer sheet and self-addressed stamp for returns requested by next Wednesday.

To give members of the congregation the chance to individually help determine varied directions for this year and the years ahead, ten basic questions were asked covering attitudes toward beliefs, the church as an organization, the ministry and religious educations.

Phu Ly, a town 35 miles from Hanoi, has been virtually 100 per cent destroyed. Huge bomb craters around and inside the town, as well as on the roads and railroad tracks, give the area the likeness of a lunar landscape.

Once a road or bridge is bombed, repair gangs descend on it like beavers, using materials piled up alongside the roads. Between Phu Ly and Nam Dinh I saw about a hundred Vietnamese women in typical black pajamas and chocolate brown trousers, carving out detour routes with their bare hands, without the aid of a single piece of heavy road equipment.

Work goes on far into the night, with the women patiently laying out the pebbles on the roadbed like children meticulously piecing together the parts of a jigsaw puzzle.

North Vietnamese officials have told us that about 70 per cent of the agricultural force is composed of women. The same apparently holds true in the case of the road and railway repair force. This means that the majority of able bodied men are tied down with defense and military duties.

This repair work is rough, but it is enough to withstand the punishment of heavy traffic.

made available to The Associated Press by the Manila Times.

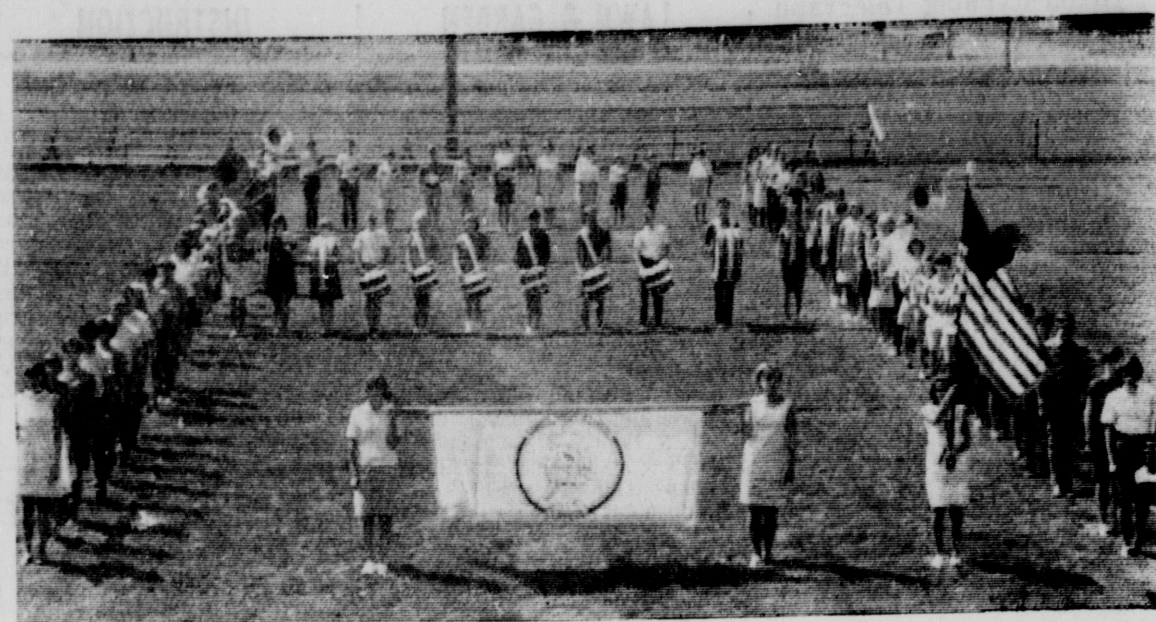

By AMANDO DORONILA

NAM HA, North Vietnam (AP) — There is not a single bridge along Route Nationale No. 1 and Route 21—the main highways in this province south of Hanoi—that has been left untouched by American bombing.

The same is true in Nam Binh, which we visited last week. The only bridges left are the tiny ones spanning creeks and irrigation canals but these too are being bombed although they hardly have any military value.

The destruction of bridges and roads has delayed but not paralyzed the movement of supplies and goods. Under normal conditions the trip from Hanoi to Nam Dinh takes two hours, but with all the detours as a result of the bombing one is lucky to make it in five.

One starts to see damaged roads and railways barely nine miles from Hanoi, the capital.

Marching Clippers

The Marching Clippers of Amboy High School form a block A on the High School athletic field. The Marching Clippers, a newly organized group composed of 85 members, will make their first public appearance at the opening football game Friday when the Clippers meet Hall Township High, Spring Valley. Janet Forman is the majorette, Theresa Elliott, flag bearer, Judy Sullivan and Deb Glaser, banner carriers, and Telva Lippert will be the announcer.

There is not even time left to wait for tar to be poured on the repaired strips, so that one sometimes sees only one side of a thoroughfare asphalted but already in use.

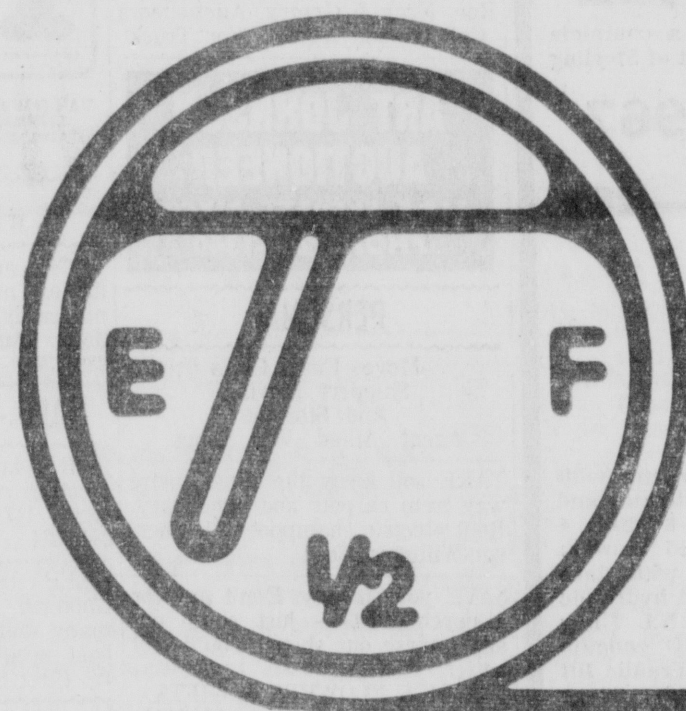

For every mile of road destroyed, five miles of detour strip is substituted. The North Vietnamese don't repair bridges on highways. Emergency bridges are made of wooden planks lashed to bamboo. Wooden ferries carry trucks. In the daytime, ferries and pontoons are hidden along the river banks, heavily camouflaged.

It is this doggedness and ingenuity of the North Vietnamese that have made the U.S. military interdiction policy fail in halting or even reducing appreciably the flow of supplies to the South.
